AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

Speculations About Governorial Candidates.

Particulars of the Eramba Disaster.—The Iowa News—More Data of the Jeannette Expedition.

Associated Press Dispatches.

SAN JOSE, June 20.—The Hearst men are feeling stronger this morning. The Stoenman and Berry delegates caused this morning and resolved to support Martin for Chairman. The election of Martin would be regarded as an anti-Hearst triumph. The San Francisco delegation counseled with ninety-six members present. The motion to support Biggs for Chairman was laid on the table.

THE ERAMBA DISASTER.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—It proves difficult to obtain much information regarding the loss of the steamer Eramba. Captain Purves has been closeted during the morning with consignees, and the men rescued with him have been stowed away to sleep off the effects of the night's struggle with the waves. This much, however, has been gleaned from various statements made by the captain and by stevedores who stowed the vessel. Owing to the empty condition of the water-ballast tanks and the coal carried on deck, the ship was crank on getting outside. She encountered heavy seas, one of the journals became loose and the engines were stopped. The ship losing headway, fell into the trough of the sea, and the waves boarded her, throwing her on beam-ends. All hands rushed on deck and the water began to pour in through the skylights and hatches on deck. Owing to the dangerous condition of the ship, no one would go below to start the engines and get her head to the sea again; so she tilted rapidly and sank. The captain, engineer and seven others got into a boat and nine men took the lifeboat.

LATER.—The boat was full of water and had no oars. The captain supposed that the remainder of the crew—eleven in number—went down with the ship. The captain's boat pulled around in the darkness until about one in the morning, when an attempt was made to land on the ocean beach. The boat swamped and only four of the occupants succeeded in reaching land. This morning search was made along the beach for bodies of other occupants of the boat, but no trace of them was found. The Revenue cutter, Richard, is now out looking for the lifeboat. The Richard had on board a cargo of wheat, valued at ninety thousand dollars, fully insured. The ship is believed to be in the Liverpool. It is stated that it was the custom to empty water tanks on loading, and as coal is used up to fill the tanks to preserve stability. The general impression is that the disaster was due to piling coal on deck. Inquiry will be held at once. In the meantime parties interested maintain a guarded silence.

THE OLD OCEAN HOUSE BURNED.

The old Ocean House, near Lake Merced, was burned this morning at one o'clock. The fire is the work of an incendiary and started in the water closet. The building and contents are a total loss. No insurance.

FIRE AT OAKLAND PIER.

A fire broke out about two A. M. on the Oakland pier, in the vicinity of the old ferry slip and the depot. The bark Great Western was burned to the water's edge. The ships Big Bonanza and Centennial and the British bark Norma were damaged. The fire is not yet extinguished. A fire boat has been sent over from this city.

TUCSON'S NEW RAILROAD.

TUCSON, June 20.—S. R. De Long, chief engineer of the Tucson and Gulf of California Railroad, and surveyors, returned to-day, having completed the location of the line from this city to Port Lobos, on the gulf. The distance is five miles. The route is through a flat in no place is the grade over seventy feet to the mile, the average being thirty feet. The entire route is over plains and passes near and through a region of rich mineral country, gold, silver and copper crop out in all the mountains. It also passes near an extensive anthracite coal bed in Sonora, about forty miles from the American boundary line. Port Lobos is completely protected from the prevailing winds. The cost of grading the line will be a small item in the construction as there are very few hills or cuts. There are but two rivers on the line, the Santa Cruz and the Altar.

THE IOWA STORM.

BURLINGTON, June 19.—On Saturday night a terrific storm passed over Des Moines and Boone county. The hurricane blew down houses, houses and orchards. The Iowa was reported killed. At Mt. Pleasant, twenty-eight miles west of here, two storms were over the town at 10:30 and broke in fearful fury; demolishing entirely the Baptist Church, lifting the spire from the Presbyterian church high in the air and inverting it. The point struck the sidewalk in front of the church and was driven into the ground many feet. The towers and roof of all churches in the place were blown away. The rain drenched much merchandise, though it lasted but forty minutes. Three hundred dwellings were unroofed and not a single chimney was left standing. Thousands of trees were twisted off. Three large brick school houses are in ruins, but the college building escaped, being protected by a fine grove of trees in the campus, which are all reported killed. Only two persons are reported killed.

Des Moines, June 20.—Hearst county's loss by the storm will reach $500,000.

Cyclone in Michigan.

DETROIT, June 20.—Yesterday a cyclone struck the southwest portion of Bay City, doing much damage. The same storm, evidently swept through portions of Tuscola and Huron counties, doing great damage. The storm moved in an easterly direction, and reports coming in from further on its course say much property was destroyed and many people injured.

Counterfeiter Sentenced.

CHICAGO, June 20.—James B. Doyle, the counterfeiter, was sentenced to twelve years in the penitentiary.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Guiteau Still Thinks Arthur Will Rescue Him.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Guiteau takes the situation coolly. He still professes a belief that the President will come to his rescue at the last moment. Mr. Hicks, his spiritual adviser, says he believes Guiteau will go to the gallows without flinching.

IMMIGRATION AND PENSION BILLS.

The House passed the bill to regulate immigration. The Pension Appropriation bill, appropriating $100,000,000, passed the House.

FIVE OFFERS A NEW RULE.

Frye, from the Committee on Rules, reported a resolution in the Senate amending rule four, that in the absence of the Vice-President, the Senate shall choose a President pro tem, who, when temporarily absent, may designate in writing the Senator to perform the duties of the Chair for the day, and during such temporary absence, until the Senator shall otherwise order.

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION.

The New York Herald Correspondent's Account.

LONDON, June 20.—W. H. Glider, the Herald correspondent with the Hogges, sends the following dispatch dated Lena Delta, April 12, 1882: "Melville found the bodies of De Long's party March 29th. They were in two places, 200 and 1,000 yards from the wreck of the Hogges. While the search party first started from the supply depot to follow Ninderman's route from Littleton to Melville and afterward camp Melville's party toward Cedarly. They stopped at the place which Ninderman and Norton passed the first day after they left De Long, feeling sure that the other had not got much further. There they found the wreck and then, after a rifle hunt, they found the bodies of De Long and Ambler, about three feet apart, and Ah Sam lying at their feet, all partially covered by pieces of blankets. All the others, except Alexia, they found at the place where the tent was pitched. Lee and Knock were close by in a cleft in the bank towards the west. Two boxes of records, with a medicine chest and a flag on a staff were beside the tent. None of the dead had boots. Their feet were covered with rags, tied on. In the pockets of all were pieces of burnt skin and of clothing which they had dug out of the snow. The bodies were more or less burned, and it looks as if when dying they had crawled into the fire. Lloyd was lying over the fire, his clothing being burned through to the skin, which was not burned. Collins' face was covered with a cloth. All the bodies were carried to the top of the hill, 300 feet high, about forty yards to the southwest from where they were found, and there interred in a mausoleum constructed of wood from the snow. The mausoleum was covered with stones and is inscribed with the record and names of the dead and the names of the party. After completing the tomb the party separated to search the delta for traces of Chipp's people. Melville went to the northwest part of the delta and west as far as Denik silver. Ninderman took the center and Bartlett the northeast. Ninderman and Bartlett found nothing. Melville has not yet returned.
